Complaints about a trickle

Tank truck driver Georgie L. Magare at leaky faucet

DUBLIN— Complaints poured in yesterday from concerned citizens as water dripped out of a holding tank and trickled down the hill at the corner of Dublin Boulevard and Silvergate Drive.

S.J. Groves and Sons Company Contractors own the tank. It holds 10,000 gallons. They transfer water from the holding tank to their tank trucks and haul it to their construction site. Their trucks hold 3500 gallons.

The Groves Company was hired by the state to work on the widening of Interstate 580. They use the water for earthwork compaction and to hold down dust.

The spokesman said it was impossible not to lose some water when the tank trucks were being filled. He said the trickle that kept up after the trucks were filled did not amount to much.

Doug Nelson, director of public works at the Valley Community Services District (VCSD), said he had warned the Groves Company three weeks ago to do something about the wasteful trickle.

"Sometimes their truck drivers don't shut off the water properly and the tank keeps on dripping," Nelson said. "And sometimes kids come along and start the water. A lock has to be put on the tank at night."

VCSD supplies water to the Groves Company. Nelson said 75 per cent of the water was from Zone 7; 25 per cent from Dublin wells.

"We are trying to get permission from the Regional Water Quality Control Board to let us fill that holding tank with waste water from the sewer plant," Nelsonsaid. "We will be meeting with that board sometime during the next two weeks."

Nelson said state engineers had estimated the Groves Company will have used a total of 6 million gallons of water for their road project by the time the job is completed. The proposed completion date is expected to fall in six months.

Safety cries after 3 dead on Foothill

PLEASANTON — Fed up with accidents that have killed three people in the last two weeks on Foothill Road, local citizens are asking the county to take more safety measures to prevent such tragedies.

Two specific meaures are being sought: a bicycle path and reduction of the vehicle speed limit from 45 miles per hour to 35 m.p.h.

The speed limit reduction is being explored by Supervisor Valerie Raymond, who has the support of Foothill High School Principal Richard Carroll. The principal believes that if the speed is reduced, passing motorists might have more respect for the special school zone 25 m.p.h. limit which right now doesn't get much observance.

The bicycle path is being asked by a caller to The Times who lives in Highland Oaks. He said he and his neighbors are fed up with hearing ambulance sirens "almost every night" up and down Foothill Road".

The caller was in no position to provide leadership on the bike path issue, but Marian Anderson, community affairs director for the Highland Oaks Improvement Association, said yesterday she would be glad to field calls on the subject at her work phone, 846-7676.

Anderson was overjoyed to hear about the prospect of getting the speed limit cut on the road. Bike paths would help too, since there are many close calls on the curves when motorists suddenly come upon a cyclist, she said.

Bike travel is so dangerous on Foothill Road that only 10 or 15 students ride their bikes to Foothill High School, said Principal Carroll. That's way below average for a typical high school, he said.

And now for the dampers.

One, lowering the speed limit probably won't lower the speed, according to two traffic experts. And two, nobody appears to be able to come up with any money for bike paths.

Pleasanton's Director of Engineering Services, Don Sooby, said that changing the posted limits probably won't change the speed at which people drive.

"Our statistics tell us that 85 per cent will drive it at a safe and reasonable speed, and 15 per cent too fast."

Most of Foothill Road is in Alameda County's jurisdiction. A county traffic department spokesperson agreed with Sooby's assessment of the lack of impact which traffic signs have on drivers.

Bike paths are a familiar crusade along Foothill Road. The answer always has been the same. The road is too narrow below Las Positas Boulevard to install a bike path, Director of Engineer Sooby noted yesterday.

Above Las Positas Boulevard there may be funds and space for a bike path when the road is expanded to four lanes to Stoneridge Drive and six lanes to Interstate 580.

Danville Moonie testifies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A follower of the Rev. Sun Myung Moon said Monday he had talked with church leaders about testifying at a conservatorship hearing, but denied they had told him what to say.

"They always encouraged me just to tell the court what I thought," said John Hovard, 23, under cross-examination in Superior Court by attorneys for his parents.

Hovard's parents, John and Gail Hovard of Danville, have joined with parents of four other young members of Moon's Unification Church in asking for temporary custody of their children to remove them from church influence for deprogramming.

When Barbara Underwood, 25, another church member, was on the stand for cross-examination last week, attorneys charged that church members in the back of the courtroom were signaling answers to her. The church members denied it.

Questioned by Sylvia Shapiro, an attorney for the parents, Hovard said church members had discussed how to answer allegations against the church that came up in court and in news reports.

"Sometimes if there was specific things, allegations ... there was input from other people in the church," Hovard said.

The parents claim their children were "brainwashed" and manipulated by the church and are unable to think for themselves.

Hovard testified Friday that since he joined the church, he no longer uses drugs, has more self-discipline, a stronger character and more goals in life.

The hearing began March 9 before Superior Court Judge S. Lee Vavuris. Attorneys for the five young people say they will call more psychiatrists to testify about their clients' mental state and capacity for self - determination.

A psychiatrist and psychologist hired by the parents testified the five exhibited symptoms of "coercive persuasuion" similar to brainwash victims.

Attorneys also say they will call as witnesses church members who have been subject to previous unsuccessful attempts at deprogramming.

Among the parents' attorneys is Wayne Howard of the Freedom of Thought Foundation, a Tucson, Ariz., firm that claims to have successfully deprogrammed 85-90 members of the Unification Church and other groups.

The hearing is expected to continue all week.

The other young people whose parents are seeking conservatorships are Janice Kaplan, 24; Jacqueline Katz, 21, and Leslie Brown, 24.

Another link shows up in jewel heist

PORTLAND, ORE. — A second suspect linked to recovery of a ring believed part of a $400,000 jewelry heist in Hawaii and later traced to Livermore was stopped by FBI agents in Southern Oregon Sunday.

Agent Brooks Cline of the Portland FBI office yesterday confirmed that a man identifying himself as the suspect was a passenger in a car stoppped for a routine traffic investigation Sunday. A computer check showed the man had no outstanding warrants for his arrest and was released.

Last Wednesday night FBI agents joined Livermore Police in executing a search warrant on Fred Sanders Matheny, 18, of 1428 Elm St. Officers reportedly found a gold ring on the suspect that was allegedly part of a jewel heist from "My Son's Jewelry Store" on Maui, Hawaii Feb. 21.

A second suspect eluded Livermore Police the same day when he was allegedly spotted driving repeatedly past Matheny's house. He reportedly is a Livermore resident.

Extension for farmer water rights

Good news for Valley landowners who aren't using their wells at present but want to reserve their rights to do so.

There's been a four - year extension on the deadline to file statements to protect farmers' rights to pump water out of the ground. Some farmland — for example, along Santa Rita and Hopyard Roads in Pleasanton — was originally irrigated with well water but is now awaiting development, the wells shut down.

Thanks to stop - growth legislation, the land may never be used for building purposes and may even-

Two assurances that BART will arrive

Reports of a BART board decision to forego any extension of that rail transit system into the Amador - Livermore Valley are in error.

That was the message received this week from the president of the Bay Area Rapid Transit board of directors, and from the local representative on that panel.

Pointing out that no such rail line can be built until freeway construction through Dublin Canyon is completed, Robert Allen adds — "I would push for it (a Valley extension) then, only if convinced the Valley wants the convenience more than we dread the growth impact." The Livermore resident and BART director says he would seek "an advisory election" on the question of such a rail extension before pressing for that service.

Barc Simpson, president of the BART board, also disagrees with news reports of a flat rejection of that Valley rail extension.

"While solution of technical problems must occur before we can consider extending service to those areas, the concept is very much alive," Simpson advised this newspaper. He acknowledges however that "financial, legislative and technical roadblocks" still exist, adding his own confidence that "BART or its equivalent will stretch to at least five of the nine (Bay Area) counties."

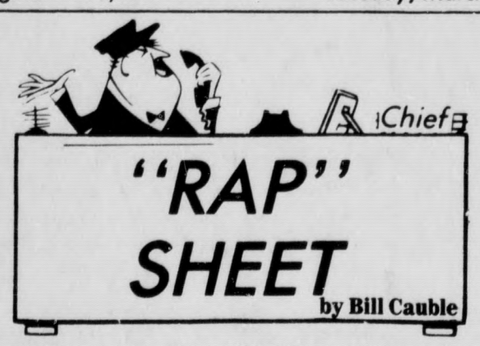
In the meantime, Simpson intends to push for Saturday service before the end of 1977, including extended AC Bus service linking BART trains to these several Valley points.

Green light for social service funds

PLEASANTON — Ten social service projects worth $62,229 were given the green light for Comprehensive Employment and Training Act funds by a special meeting of the county manpower advisory board Sunday afternoon in Hayward.

The project recommendations will go to the ACAP/ ACTEB board for final approval tomorrow (Wednesday) night. The funding priorities were approved by the city council last week by a 4-1 vote.

If approved, the programs will be funded from April 15 to September 30. It's expected there is a good chance to renew funds beyond that date. It's also expected other programs may be started during that period because apparently the funding limit will be raised from $60,000 to something close to $180,000.



Burglar escapes Bob's Coin Corner with currency

LIVERMORE — A man who reportedly took $200 in scarce collector's bills from Bob's Coin Corner at 1870 First St. Friday is being sought by police.

A witness told officers he watched the man grab several plastic folders containing the bills and run out the store when he thought no one was watching. The witness gave chase and the burglar dropped 10 two-dollar bills but escaped.

Missing items include bills with printing errors and silver certificates. The suspect is described as about 18 years old, six feet tall, 160 pounds with light brown hair.

Explosion on Encino Drive related to harassment

LIVERMORE — An explosive device that was intended to cause injury was set off in front of an Encino Drive residence Friday night in what police termed continuing juvenile harassment of two families there.

Officers said shrapnel from the device could have caused serious injury. It was exploded about 11:15 Friday night.

Juveniles in the area have spread stories that two families there were "devil worshippers" and have been harassing them for several weeks, police report. This has included firecrackers, thrown beer bottles, a small burning cross and obscenities.

Police said extra patrols would be made in the area.

Gun found in abandoned auto at restaurant

LIVERMORE — Police are searching for the owner of a car left with its motor running in which a loaded gun was found Friday morning at a local drive-through restaurant.

Two officers reported they saw a man arguing with the manager of the Jack-in-the-Box on First Street Friday about 2 a.m. They talked with the man briefly, and he denied the car was his and walked off.

Officers looked inside and found an open beer can on the seat. While searching for the car's registration, they found a 7.65mm automatic pistol with two bullets in the clip.

The car was traced to a Pleasanton resident who picked the car up a few hours later. The driver is still being sought.

Vandals damage Cadillac outside lounge

LIVERMORE — Vandals caused more than $725 damage to a late model Cadillac El Dorado Thursday night while it was parked outside the Rodeo Club at 2011 Second St.

Ronald Trudell of Alviso Place told officers he returned to his car about 8:30 Thursday night and discovered the paint had been scratched on both sides, the CB antenna had been bent and the convertible top had been slashed. There are no suspects.

Turbo charger removed from diesel truck

PLEASANTON — Knowledgeable burglars removed the turbo charger from a diesel truck belonging to the Pleasanton Trucking Co. located at 1045 Division St. Saturday, police report.

Officers said that burglars did a clean job of removing the $900 part which could be installed on many other truck models. There are no suspects.

Two CB units taken from Palomino Drive apartment

PLEASANTON — Two citizen band radios valued at $290 were taken from a Palomino Drive apartment between 4:30 and 5:30 Saturday afternoon, police report.

Richard Burr reported the theft of Cobra and Kraco brand radios from his residence. There were no signs of forced entry.

Jewelry taken from Fairlands Drive home

PLEASANTON — Jewelry valued at $550 was taken from the master bedroom of a Fairlands Drive home recently, police report.

Freya Ann Willmotte told officers that the jewelry was located in a small box which was discovered missing. There were no signs of forced entry to the home.

Student's a film celebrity

PLEASANTON— A youthful curiosity and interest in films and film making could prove the springboard for a career in that field for David Fletcher, an 18-year old senior at Foothill High School.

With the first-year Cinema History/Film Making class, taught by Jay Craney, as impetus, Fletcher organized and produced a 9-minute film he subsequently entitled "Claws" and then, on his own, formed his own production company and produced "Uncle Sam Wants You," which won first prize award of $50 in KTEH, Channel 54 San Jose, film maker's contest.

Fletcher and Backstabber Productions, Ltd. won first in the senior division. His class project, "Claws," received a special award and $15.

The San Jose station brought a crew out to Foothill High last week to interview Fletcher and his young associates. The experience of making the two films has made Fletcher a mini-celebrity and whetted his appetite for making additional films and pursuing the art at San Francisco State next fall.

Fletcher's class project is a parody of "Jaws"— what else! and is the inspiration of sophomore Lori Longo. Steve Bousliman, a Chabot student, played the teacher and the picture was shot around the Foothill High campus.

Another Chabot student, Tom Concannon, played the principal and Lori, Noreen Martinsen, Karen Johnson, Jim Dill, Susie Watts, and Jeff Elkins also made their film acting debuts.

Dill, a junior, was the camera man and the lights were given by the Film Club. Teachers edited the film and a Super 8 MM. camera was used.

The big prize-winner, "Uncle Sam Wants You," is Fletcher's idea. An anti-war film, it tells the story of a young man who sees an Uncle Sam recruiting poster, enlists, goes to war (a "jungle" area in back of David's home at Castlewood is the war zone), runs into the muzzle of a German soldier's rifle and, via a well-done series of flashbacks, remembers the recruiting poster, the recruiting pitch, and his farewell (staged at the Livermore Airport).

David says the film was shot during portions of December and January. The locales, beside the Castlewood "jungle," included the airport, the military recruiting station in Dublin, and the high school.

Costumes were supplied by Bill Bentham, a sophomore whose father is a collector of old uniforms. He also supplied the medals.

Though he believes the flashback style has been over done (It first came to popular use in the Rod Steiger film "The Pawnbroker"), Fletcher got the idea for the film from a U.S. History class he took.

Steve Blair, as the young man who enlists and goes to war, is the "star" of the six-minute film (Which indicates that David and Backstabber Productions did an excellent job of film editing).

David is cast as the German solder and others having small parts are Mike Barbin, as the little brother; Karen Coffin, as the soldier's mother; Randy Rice, as the father; Pam Schock, as the girlfriend, and Butch Hock, as a Colonel who gives the soldier a medal.

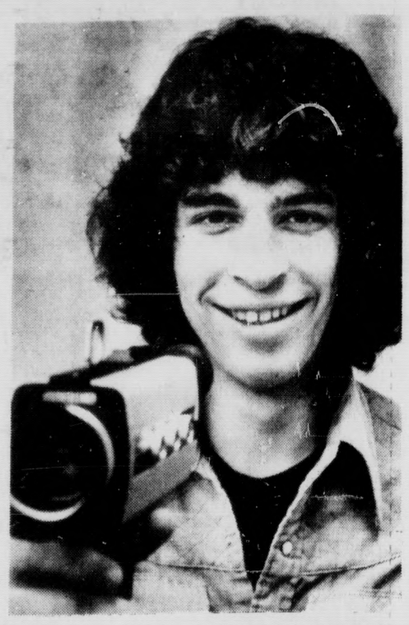
The television station is slated to show portions of the winning films plus the interview with Fletcher and his youthful film crew at a date still to be announced.



David Fletcher and his Super 8 MM.

While David his matter - of - fact about his initial successes, it could prove to be the forerunner of many to come.

And we all can say "we knew David when" he was a member of the Class of '77 at Foothill High School.

New blood at city hall

When youngsters from Granada High School took over city hall in Livermore, yesterday, they discussed weighty issues. They were serious and they had moments of giggle - fits. They listened attentively (top, left) when make believe city department heads gave their reports to a mock city council meeting audience. Participation was keen.

At left, the staff table featured two members of the real city staff: Ed Schilling (with pencil raised), played himself as assistant to the city manager. That top administrative post was played by Kris Stasko (foreground). City Clerk Dorothy Hock (background) sat next to student city attorney Larry Burke.

Later that night the students joined their countrerparts for a regular city council meeting.

tually return to farmland. Meanwhile, owners of the acreage should file for water rights or they could be lost.

According to soil conservationist Bob Roan of the Livermore Soil Conservation Service office, almost all local farmers pump from wells. The filing extension was granted because many farmers and water agencies in Northern California said they needed the extra time to compile data about past water use.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed a bill by Sen Ruben Ayala, D - Chino, moving the deadline up from the original April 1, 1977 until 1981.

Teachers paper the neighborhood

Amador Valley Joint High School District teachers have stepped up their campaign to force a contract settlement or strike by the passing out of 12,000 informational leaflets Sunday and naming of strike captains at each district school.

According to Dave Woolworth, president of the teachers unit, 120 teachers showed up at the "crisis headquarters" on Main Street in Pleasanton Sunday to pickup and distribute the leaflets door - to - door in Dublin and Pleasanton. "We received over 40 telephone calls immediately after our house - to - house deliveries," said Woolworth, "all positive with the exception of just a few calls."

Teachers have set a strike date deadline of Thursday, April 14, noted initially in The Times last week.

In an Amador Valley Secondary Educators Association report sent out Monday, unit leadership asks all high school district teachers to "remove all personal belongings and teaching materials now, establish up to the minute contact with your building representative (a phone call every night), and please try to avoid discussion with students."

Named as strike captains are Barbara Ziegenhals, Amador Valley High; Barbara Conley, Dublin High; Dan Chiolis, Foothill High, and Ron Mack, Valley Continuation High.

Teachers are also directed to "begin setting up a personal strike fund. It is going to be a long strike."

Woolworth has also sent a letter to Superintendent Bruce Newlin, stating "Since the services of mediator (Mike West) apparently are no longer available, we regard it as essential that these negotiations proceed on a face-to-face basis. To initiate negotiations, merely telephone me at 447-7209." Woolworth suggests Friday, March 25 as a possible date for renewed negotiations.

The leaflets distributed Sunday are bannered with the words "No school in Pleasanton or Dublin?" Inside is an explanation of the two major issues still to be resolved— binding arbitration and cost of living adjustment.

Woolworth said yesterday "The community is definetly being aroused and we must continue to keep people informed. Another leafletting is planned for this Sunday— be ready for a repeat performance!"

There was no immediate reaction forthcoming from the administration concerning the leafletting or the prospect of renewed negotiations.

Both sides have agreed to taking the situation to fact-finding.

However, the teacher unit leadership said it hoped to await the administration reaction to the fact-finder's report in the Pleasanton district. The report is now due this week.

Trustees report triggers talks

DANVILLE — The San Ramon Unified School District administration presented its response to a teachers' contract proposal, including the school board's resolving of grievances.

The 55-page document, which is now required under collective bargaining procedure, lists the administration's position in 22 areas.

There are no hearings scheduled for the board's response. But, copies of the response are on file at each of the schools, at the district office and at the Danville Library.

Board members quickly approved the response, signaling the start of negotiations between the administration and the San Ramon Valley Educators Association.

The administration contract period is for the period July 1, 1977, to June 30, 1978.

Other key areas include hours, class size, school year calendar, evaluations, and reassignment and transfer.

Trustees also approved a second reading of the developers' policy.

One of the points, according to superintendant Allan Petersdorf, is an assumption that all dwellings will be considered to be four bedrooms.

The district feels the policy is necessary because of its present inability to finance the acquisition of school sites and constructing and equipping school buildings needed to adequately serve the public school needs of residents.

The board also learned information is being gathered from other districts, including Amador, for the purpose of comparing graduation requirements.

New trustees elected earlier this month will be seated at the annual reorganization accomplished at the first board meeting in April.

At odds over the pipeline

PLEASANTON — Jim Jordan, co - chairperson of CARD, had a few clarifying words to throw into the pot about what's really going on between CARD and the city council in regard to the LAVWMA pipeline.

Jordan started round one when he, as CARD's representative, invited the city council to attend a meeting of the local civic group and explain the council's stand on the LAVWMA pipeline and discuss a few of the fine points.

He suggested that a recent unanimous council vote backing the general idea of a pipeline violated a majority view of the Valley's electorate, which rejected a pipeline last November.

Council member Frank Brandes did not like these words from Jordan. He told The Times that Jordan "could not call a meeting of the city council" and that Pleasanton voters endorsed the idea of a pipeline, so it seems the council is perfectly in step with local voters in pursuing a pipeline.

Jordan said that just because Pleasanton voters approved the pipeline does not mean it's a good deal; the city council ought to look at the whole Valley picture. "Just because Carter lost in Michigan, doesn't mean he's not President there, too," said Jordan by way of analogy.

Nor did he presume to "call a meeting of the city council." CARD has had civic meetings for a long time and council members have attended them, especially Brandes, he said. CARD has done its own research on the pipeline and wants to share it with the council. A CARD meeting is a good place to do that, said Jordan.

(Brandes' position on that point is that CARD already has enlightened the council at a council meeting about how it feels.)

Jordan did have praise for one council member's stand. Council member William Herlihy has said that the voters ought to be consulted about whatever final scheme is adopted and "I agree with that," Jordan said yesterday.

In a finale Jordan said that Brandes "obviously feels now that he's on the council, he need not go back to the people for their consultation or to inform them."— by Ron McNicoll

U.S. citizens at long last

SAN RAMON — "You have a privilege I never had — you were able to pick your country."

With those words, Judge Coleman Fannin welcomed 42 newly naturalized citizens to the United States at ceremonies in Martinez two weeks ago.

It took Hans and Marita Hufnagl a year and a day to pass the basic American history tests, making the Weymouth Court residents the newest U.S. citizens on the block.

How easy is the naturalization test? Well, do you know what each of "Old Glory's" colors stands for?

"Our sponsors didn't," laughs Marita, holding up the smallish 93-page booklet which outlines basic historical events and presents full texts of the Constitution and other documents.

(For us native-born American types, red is for courage, blue represents justice and white means truth).

Hans, a native-born Austrian, brought his young wife to America in 1956 to live with his sister in New York, a stay that lasted three months. They moved to San Francisco and lived there for nine years before a two-year return to Germany.

The Hufnagls missed the States, though, and returned to the Bay Area permanently in 1967.

"Out here, it is still a nice, small community," boasts Hans through his thick accent. "People still care about each other."

Hans was one of many laid off when the Volkswagon plant in Pleasanton ceased operations, but was hired one month later to maintain the grounds at those same facilities.

An active family, the Hufnagls appreciate the great open space and freedom of travel that exists here. With daughter Annette, 13, and son Gerrit, 10, they travel a lot in their mobile home with occasional stops for fishing, skiing and sailing.

Germany is half the size of California, Hans points out, and travel outside the country requires passports to any of the small nearby nations, such as Denmark, Austria, Holland or France. "Here you just get in and start driving."

Marita does not miss the grueling reality of all four seasons, because here "you are two hours from snow or two hours from the ocean — it's the best of two worlds."

Our newest citizens are outwardly proud of their new status, although it does not affect them greatly in day-to-day life. "There was no advantage or disadvantage in becoming a citizen. I just wanted to vote so I could say my peace," Hans beams.

"You are an American citizen, although in your heart you are an Austrian. But you are an American," he says.

Dance tootsies off

Only if men show up

PLEASANTON — The biggest question facing some women in the 28 hour dance marathon coming up April 22 and 23 at the Veterans Hall was ennunciated clearly by one woman at a press luncheon Friday: "What are we going to do for men?"

It was asked by a senior citizen, who may want to remain anonymous, and a quick look around the spacious, bare floor of the Veterans Hall proved her point. There seemed to be three men among the 20 or so Senior VIP Club members who hosted the press and others who are promoting the club's first - ever community fund raiser.

One younger woman present Friday said, "You can have mine," but joking aside, perhaps more senior men will materialize by April 22 and in any case the dance will be open to all age groups.

There even will be a special disco dance from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. April 23 for teens. The bar will be closed during that time out of respect to their tender ages.

The bar definitely was open Friday as some reporters tried to emulate their colleagues who entered the St. Patrick's Day green beer drinking contest a day earlier. Only here the fare was champagne along with hors d' oeuvres prepared by some of those dance - eligible ladies in the Senior VIP's.

The club's president, Darryl Maxson, said a few words of welcome to the assemblage and the seniors cut a rug to the tune of "Toot, Toot, Tootsie, Goodbye," in honor of the dance marathon's official name, "Dance Your Tootsies Off." And that they did.

End of a lengthy fight over road

PLEASANTON — Long years of legal hassles over whether the standards for a road in the steep Longview development appear to be settled now that the property's new owners, LH Development, have agreed to conform to standards asked by the city.

That was the upshot of a discussion between MacKay and Somps engineer Dick Braden and the city council, which voted 4-1 to put Longview and an adjacent 70 acres into the city's hillside zoning ordinance.

The legal hassles actually were settled by a court decision in favor of the city, but LH Development's intentions as announced by Braden make it final that the road problem will be solved from an engineering standpoint.

Braden argued that since LH Development is conforming to what the city wants anyway, it should not be put in the Hillside Development zone. It would just mean further expense for developer and city, he said.

Only Council Member Frank Brandes agreed with Braden and suggested "grandfathering in" the development, since it was begun years ago, but he lost on the 4-1 vote.

New EBMUD rate study to be viewed

OAKLAND — New, higher water rates and excessive use penalties will be considered by directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility District Tuesday.

Proposals to be studied Tuesday reflect that thinking.

If adopted as presented, customers would pay 29 cents a unit (100 cubic feet or 748 gallons of water) for the first five units consumed. The existing rate is 24 cents.

For the next 35 units, the price would be 39 cents a unit. The existing rate is also 24 cents.

For the next 3,960 units, the rate would be 37 cents. The existing rate is 22 cents.

Consumption higher than 3,400 units would be billed at 33 cents a unit.

The new proposals are about 15 per cent higher than rates directors considered last month.

The proposals also include beefed up surcharges for customers who use more than their daily water allocations.

Residential water users are being asked to reduce consumption to 280 gallons a day. Customers who use more than that would be billed an excess use charge in addition to their regular water rates.

The new proposed penalties would be 39 cents a unit for the first 10 units above the alloted consumption. That rate would increase to 78 cents for the next 10 units, $1.17 for the next 10, $1.56 for the next 10, $4.68 for the next 10, and $7.80 for every unit above that.

Penalties for commercial and industrial users will increase in the same price blocks, however they will be based on 10 per cent increments above the ration.

According to the district, the average Contra Costa EBMUD household consumes 845 gallons of water a day.

Under the existing water schedule, the cost would be $19.92 for the two-month billing period.

If an EBMUD customer continued to use that amount, the price would jump to $90.30 — $22.66 for water, $4.60 for service charge, and $63.04 for penalty.

Households able to manage with the district allotment of 280 gallons, the bi-monthly bill now is $9.88. Under the proposed plan that would increase to $12.68.

Next week's proposal also includes a suggestion that customers who use more than 50 units above their allotment be given a warning.

If within 30 days, no attempt is made to conserve water, flow-restricting devices will be put on their water supply.

The Tuesday session will be at 1:15 p.m. at district headquarters.

Movement on overpass

LIVERMORE — A project coordinator for construction of a $1.5 million First Street overpass may be selected in the next few days, according to Public Works Director Dan Lee.

Lee told The Times he has already interviewed seven registered civil engineers. "We need someone right away."

He was expected to ask city council last night for authorization to advertise for construction bids. Bidding would last approximately three weeks, with awarding of a contract "as soon as possible."

The rush stems from a 90 day deadline imposed by the Public Works Employment Act which is funding the project. To get the money, the city must start work on the project by early May. The funding legislation was designed to get people back to work as soon as possible.

Lee estimated the project would be completed in 18 months, with the road opened for traffic in 12 months.

First bidding would be for construction of the overhead structure. A second contract would be awarded later for the approach road work.

The program includes swerving First Street at Maple Street, onto the railroad right of way, past but not connecting with School Street, then curving up an overhead ramp which swerves back to the present First Street near Scott Street.

WHAT'S IN A DREAM?

There is one situation in life in which you are free to do anything you wish, without restriction, without laws, without punishment, and without taxes, regardless of whether it is illegal, immoral, unjust, unlikely or even impossible.

The happenings in our dreams symbolize our true feelings about our life and we can get in touch with our feelings by interpreting our dreams.

A man dreaming of a bartender, who represents a friend and confidant to many, may have a desire for someone to listen to his troubles and sympathize. The bartender may represent his mother. A dream of an angel may also symbolize one's mother. If the dreamer receives help from the angel, it may indicate a feeling of helplessness, and a desire to be helped.

One who dreams of a dog, longs for affection and companionship. If you dream of a zoo, you probably are wishing for affection on a grand scale.

If you dream of a castle, you may wish to live like a king, or to escape your present situation, by building castles in the air. A father who dreams he is a king who's crown has been stolen may feel his family doesn't value his opinions.

A rich man dreaming of cream, which symbolizes luxury, may feel guilty about enjoying his affluence while others around him do not have the necessities of life.

Dreams of an island may indicate a desire to escape from the present life situation, and the dreamer's loneliness for a particular person who would offer him affection and companionship.

Digging in a dream might symbolize the desire to uncover the true facts, or to uncover another person's true feelings.

Cars, and other passenger carrying vehicles stand for movement, toward a goal, or away from an undesirable situation in the dreamer's life. An airplane ride in a dream indicates the dreamer wishes to move up in life,or to have a quick change of scene. If the plane is grounded, he feels he can't get off the ground, perhaps in his career.

A rose is supposed to represent the female genitalia. A man dreaming of giving a rose to a woman, probably expresses a desire to have a sexual relationship with her. If he dreams of taking a rose forcibly from her, he desires to rape her.

Firemen are symbolic of masculine strength and virility. A woman who dreams of a fireman may wish for the person so represented to put out the fire of her passions.

Watch those dreams. Find out about yourself.

Dream a little — your eyes love it

How many wildly imaginative people do you know with bad eyesight? Think about it. According to Gerald Grow, a young man who claims his eyes were once so bad he even wore glasses in the shower, exercising your imagination can cure the Mr. Magoo in you.

A Bay Area resident with a Ph.D in literature from Yale University, Gerald taught literature and drama in the area until he decided to concentrate on better sight for more people.

Basing his $10-an-hour classes on theories developed by the late opthalmologist W.H. Bates, Gerald incorporates simple eye exercises with relaxation techniques proposed by psychiatrist Wilhelm Reich. For those of you who can't afford his regular fee, join Gerald on Wednesday, March 23 at Anthropos from 8 to 10 p.m., where for just $2 you can learn enough to hopefully save you hundreds of dollars in optometrist fees! Anthropos is located at 1818 Catalina Ct. in Livermore.

"Stress is a major factor in all kinds of eye problems," claims Gerald, who advocates relaxation to reduce chronic muscular tension. "It worked for me," he says simply. "After wearing glasses for 20 years, I can now pass the driving test without them."

A New York eye surgeon who decided the basis for his profession was wrong, Gerald explains that Dr. Bates began exploring eye exercises in 1920. One of his simple exercises involves covering your eyes with your palms — lightly, but not letting light in. Breathe freely, says the Bates disciple, and prop your elbows on a table.

"Imagine a scene that is open and spacious," directs Gerald. "By taking an imaginary journey in your mind, your eyes focus as if they are actually seeing it. This helps reduce eye strain, which helps the eyes, so try and do it twice a day for five minutes."

After palming a few months, declares Gerald, when you bring your hands up to your eyes they automatically relax. "I'll vouch for it," he laughs.

Working out of Berkeley, Gerald is especially interested in bringing therapeutic techniques learned in Reich-oriented workshops — which develop body unity by working on people's psychological natures — into his own eye development program.

Grow also recommends a book by Margaret Corbett, "Help Yourself to Better Sight," which outlines basic eye exercises. The book also provides statistics on how many people have actually benefited from the proposed techniques, including some with glaucoma and cataracts.

The book is available at Lewin's Books and Shambala Books in Berkeley or can be ordered from Wilshire Book Company, 12015 Sherman Road, North Hollywood, Calif. 91605.

Dr. Joyce Brothers

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: This was one of tie worst winters I can ever remember. Almost everything has gone wrong. First, we struggled with the cold and then because of it my husband was laid off. We don't really have enough money and we all felt the pinch, even the children. To make matters worse, they were out of school because of the heavy snows and I had the burden of the whole family. I love them but I found it difficult being locked in this igloo with them night and day. Both my husband and I became ill and I think it was from the strain of such closeness. Is what happened to us unusual? — C.K.

DEAR C.K.: No. Many of us live with the myth of the old days when families seemed to be much closer and so we are shocked and disappointed when togetherness brings problems.

What we forget is that the togetherness of old meant that there were grandmothers, grandfathers, aunts and uncles. If it was a farm home, there sometimes were other people who lived in and helped work the farm. Today, there's usually just parents and two children. No matter how much they love each other, if they're thrown upon each other because of frequent moving from city to city, or because of a situation such as you describe, there's bound to be stress and strain. Everyone suffers if there's no stimulation from the outside world. This doesn't mean that love is dead or even dying.

The social stress of recession and of unemployment brings many problems. Studies indicate that men recently laid off undergo bodily changes. The family, the emotional core of people's lives, gets a severe battering.

Try to be patient. Keep the communication lines open and remember that spring will soon be here.

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: I married a dentist who has always been very successful in his profession. He hasn't, however, been quite so successful in his marriages. I can understand why. I love him very much but he suffers from depression. He tells me this isn't unusual in a dentist and I'm beginning to believe him after our spending several vacations in the company of his colleagues. Why should this be so? Do dentists have special pressures? I should think this wouldn't be any harder than any other job or profession. — P.K.

DEAR P.K.: Studies indicate that depression, alcoholism, divorce and drug abuse are growing concerns for many in the dental profession. Most carry heavy work loads and, according to Dr. P.H. Blachly, a psychiatrist and teacher at the University of Oregon Medical School, many personality traits that characterize a good dentist are traits that seem to predispose people to depression.

Compulsive attention to details, careful control of emotions, and the prolonged deferral of gratification are traits which might be good for the profession but bad for general happiness in everyday life. These are characteristics common to a perfectionist who is frustrated and ill at ease when things "aren't quite right." This may involve anything — his wife's cooking, a TV program, a favorite piece of music, or a friend's personality.

You can help your husband and your marriage by encouraging him to try to analyze himself to see if any of these apply to him. If he thinks they do, he might be happier and healthier if he took a little time out for professional help.

Dr. Lamb

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband had a check-up recently and they found his cholesterol and triglycerides were too high. The doctor advised him to go on a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet and lose weight.

I know this is important because so many men have heart attacks even at a fairly young age. I want to help all I can, but I don't know which foods contain cholesterol. Also, what is the difference between triglycerides and cholesterol? Do you have any material you can send me that will give me a better idea of this problem while I can still do something about it?

DEAR READER — Judging from my mail most of the public is confused about the difference between cholesterol and fat.

Triglycerides and fat are the same thing. If your husband's triglyceride level was too high that means he had too much fat in his blood. The cholesterol is a large molecule of alcohol, a waxy substance, yellowish in color. It is carried in the bloodstream with the fat. It is found in animal foods, including egg yolks, but not in plants; and it is also manufactured by your liver.

Cholesterol can be manufactured from any excess food you eat, including carbohydrates and proteins.

I doubt that your diet program will help your husband unless he controls his weight and that means eliminating any fat he might have around his waist or elsewhere. The way to tell if he is slim enough is to see how much fat he has under the skin, not what he weighs on the scales.

He is probably overweight, a rather common condition in our society, as that is usually the case in people who have both an elevation of cholesterol and fats. These people usually improve with weight reduction.

Egg yolks are a major source of cholesterol. Fish, chicken and red meats all contain about 70 milligrams per 100 grams (three-and-a-half ounces). Butterfat also contains considerable cholesterol as do organ meats. The InterSociety Commission for Heart Disease Resources recommends that the daily intake should be limited to no more than 300 milligams. By limiting egg yolk consumption, avoiding organ meats, especially brains and liver, and butterfat you can have a very adequate diet that does not exceed the limit of 300 milligrams of cholesterol a day.

These and other concepts are explained in the two issues of The Health Letter that I am sending you.

Q. "WHAT IS AN ALBINO?"
ANNA CHANDLER SAN RAFAEL, CA
A. AN ALBINO IS A PERSON OR ANIMAL THAT CANNOT PRODUCE A NORMAL AMOUNT OF COLOR PIGMENT IN ITS BODY ALBINOES USUALLY HAVE WHITE HAIR, PINK EYES, AND LIGHT-COLORED SKIN.

We're familiar with white mice, rats, and white rabbits. The surprise comes when we see a single white bird among a flock of blackbirds.

Like the white mouse and rabbit, the white blackbird is an albino. Albinoes cannot produce a normal amount of pigment, or coloring matter, in their bodies. White hair or feathers, pink eyes, and pinkish skin mark the albino.

Thus, a blackbird becomes a whitebird, a gray squirrel grows white fur, and a squatty toad ends up with pinkish skin.

Albinoes are found among a great many kinds of animals. There are even albino people. Albinoes have special problems because of their coloring.

Without pigment, the skin of albinos burns easily in the sun. And they do not see as well as other animals do because their pink-colored eyes let in too much light.

Many wild animals that are albinos do not live long. Their white bodies and weak eyes make them easy prey for their enemies.

We recommend strongly that you play that the five-club response to Blackwood shows zero or four aces. This leaves some special use for the five-notrump response but we recommend even more strongly that you just leave that one out. You aren't likely to need it.

Two of the greatest players of all time, who are now playing their bridge in another world, did have a use for this bid and their special convention did come up once.

Sidney Silodor, who sat North, responded five notrump to show four aces and no kings. John Crawford proceeded to bid six clubs to ask his partner to bid seven if he held the queen of trumps and Sidney obliged.

The four-zero trump break together with the bad breaks in the minor suits gave Johnny a problem but he was able to handle it.

He played dummy's ace of spades at trick two. East showed out but Johnny was able to lead to his king and pick up West's jack.

Then he played three rounds of clubs while discarding a diamond from dummy. He cashed his king and queen of diamonds and continued with his last trump to force poor East to unguard either the jack of clubs or jack of diamonds.

Innovative reading center

PLEASANTON— The Reading Center at Lydiksen School could well be the most influential educational "tool" to be developed in the Highland Oaks - Foothill area, for children of elementary age, in recent years.

Jackie Wright, a soft-spoken and precise woman, directs the activities of the center, developed to deal with visual perception, auditory perception, decoding skills and comprehension.

Two of the most important factors in the Reading Center, says Ms. Wright, are the referrals of teachers on the Lydiksen staff and the 23 parents active in assisting the children.

Children are referred by teachers as well as school psychologist or hearing clinicians. A child may spend anywhere from one month to a full school year in the Reading Center, depending on the amount of progress made.

They spend from 15 minutes to 1½ hours each day.

The remedial aspect of the center, which might tend to inhibit a sensitive child, is more than offset by the airy, open-pod setting, and the wealth of materials and attention.

Ms. Wright credits Judy Scavone with organizing parent volunteers for the center.

The center is a continuation of the open court language arts program, with auditory and visual materials added.

In addition to dealing with visual and auditory perception, and reading comprehension, the center is also concerned with the child's spelling and composition skills.

About 145 students spend a portion of each day at the reading center. Ms. Wright estimates that she and her volunteer aides have worked with 232 children at the school to date.

She sees significant progress being made by most of the youngsters and expects the center to be of increasing value in the months and years to come.

Cal senior second at jazz festival

SAN RAMON— Mike Gibson, a senior at California High School, was accorded a second - place award in the soloist section at the recent Reno International Jazz Festival.

Playing the acoustic piano, Gibson performed "Lazy Bird," a compostion by John Coltrane, and "Tones for Jones' Bones," by Chic Correa.

The 12th annual Reno Festival drew junior, high school and college jazz ensembles from most western states and featured two groups from Japanese colleges.

The California High jazz quartet, which cut its first long - playing record March 19, and the big band also performed at the prestigious festival.

Jazz groups from Amador Valley High School in Pleasanton also performed.

Gibson said that some 50 quartets were entered in the competition and 16 instrumentalists in the soloist section.

A participant in the music program at Cal High the past five years, Gibson and the other members of the jazz quartet have played together for their entire high school career.

Two of the group plan to attend Brigham Young University, while Gibson will major in jazz music next fall at Cal State Northridge.

He has played in a summer rehearsal band with Thursday's Child, a professional group, aside from the school ensembles.

Teachers learn

LIVERMORE — Conferences are in the air for Livermore Unified School District teachers and administrators, giving them a break in the routine and some new ideas to bring back to the job.

On March 25 and in Palo Alto, four local teachers will speak at the Individualized Instruction Association conference, beginning Friday night at the Cabana Hyatt House and continuing Saturday at Gunn High School.

David Cooper of Almond Avenue School, Constance Reardon of Mendenhall Intermediate, Lou Ann Martin and Ruth Severyn of Sonoma Avenue School will talk about their own approaches to individualized education.

Livermore's vocational teachers will be spending Wednesday and Thursday at Sunol Valley Golf Club. They will be attending a career education workshop just for Livermore schools, designed, according to career education coordinator Fred Sherwyn, "to define career education, clarify goals and objectives, develop infusion strategies and establish individual teacher action plans.

"The inservice training sessions will conclude with demonstrations and displays of career education instructional materials."

Sherwyn added, "This new and exciting step towards providing a career education program for all students, at all grade levels, has been carefully planned with the help of both staff and community members."

Two retire

LIVERMORE — Two Livermore Unified School District teachers have announced their intention to retire in June.

Mrs. Olive Sorensen, a sixth grade teacher at Almond Avenue School, is retiring after 18 years with the district. Mrs. Helen Fowler, first grade teacher at Green School, retires after 15 years' service.

Mrs. Judy Carlson, a third and fourth grade teacher at Marylin Avenue School who has been on leave of absence during the current school year, has turned in her resignation.

Classified employes who are leaving include: Kenneth Sexton, head custodian at Arroyo Mocho School, with eight years' service to the district; James Norwood, master craftsman in the Transportation Department, after 12 years; Carol Sue Irvin, playground supervisor at Gunn School; and Darlene Bannister, playground supervisor at Mendenhall School.

Taking leaves of absence are: Kathryn Burlington, fifth grade teacher at Sonoma School, Lynn Taylor, kindergarten teacher at Arroyo Mocho, Shirley Warden, third and fourth grade teacher at Henry School and Mary Warner, coordinator of pupil welfare and attendance, all for pregnancy; and Charlene Pizzorno, Livermore High foreign languages teacher, voluntary leave.

Newly hired are Connie Dayton, senior clerk at Granada High; and Elizabeth Farfan, playground supervisor, Green School.

Murray Olderman

Benson draft pick likely

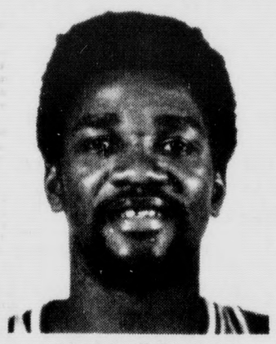
Just ask

The tipoff:

The most refreshing new major face on the baseball scene is Tom LaSorda as the effervescent manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, succeeding dry Walter Alston. Tom is so optimistic he leaves a tip before the meal is served.

Q. Who is going to be the first college player chosen in the NBA draft? Which team will get him? When will the draft be held? — M.N., Santa Ana, Calif.

Despite his injury and Indiana's poor record, Kent Benson, the huge center of the Hoosiers, is the likely No. 1 pick, with Marques Johnson of UCLA going second. The teams with the poorest records in each conference flip for the right to choose first. That most likely means the New York Nets and the Milwaukee Bucks. But the Nets have already traded their number one pick to Kansas City. The draft date hasn't been set yet; it's generally a week or two after the last playoff game, which means the first or second week in June.



Marshall Rogers

Q. When the U.S. wins medals in Olympic competition, are they allowed to keep the medals or what? — Butch Campbell, Philadelphia, Pa.

First, let's correct a fallacy. The U.S. does not win medals. In Olympic competition, only performers win medals. And, yes, they keep the actual medals — unless, as in the historic case of Jim Thorpe, the man must give them back because he violated the rules (Thorpe had played baseball as a professional).

Q. What is the average salary in professional basketball? What is the minimum? — T.J., Corpus Christi, Tex.

A figure being used currently as the average salary is $109,000 a year, but some NBA executives tell me a more accurate number would be $90,000, which still ain't bad. The minimum salary according to the existing bargaining agreement is $30,000 a season, but virtually no man in the NBA is that low. The fringe rookies (i.e. Marshall Rogers of the Golden State Warriors) are generally in the $35,000-40,000 bracket.

Q. In 1940 and 1942 in New York City, I would like to know which football and baseball teams were playing Charles Bellardine, Philadelphia, Pa.

In baseball, you had three major league teams — the New York Yankees of the American League, the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League. In those same years, the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers were also both in the National Football League. And major college football was being represented, at least in 1940, by Columbia, Fordham, NYU and Manhattan.

Q. Do you know of any reason why Del Ennis, former great slugger of the Phillies, did not receive one vote toward entry into baseball's Hall of Fame? Suggest you check his record as compared to some who have made it. — Bud Beale, Aston, Pa.

In 14 years, Ennis had a batting average of .284, with 288 honors and 1,284 runs batted in. I suppose you want to argue parity with Ralph Kiner (10 seasons, .279 BA, 369 HR's, 1,015 RBI's). But, sorry, I just don't think Ennis' figures rate Hall of Fame entry. I'd rather make a case for an old-timer named Dick Bartell, who batted .284 for 18 years in the majors and was, unlike the two above, a brilliant glove man as a shortstop.

Parting shot:

Fans respond to the dunk warmup shooting of Dr. J. when the Philadelphia 76ers play, arriving early to watch the exhibition, the way fans of another generation used to come to the park to catch Babe Ruth in batting practice.

Got a tough question about sports and the people who play them? All you got to do is ask Murray Olderman. Write him in care of the Times, P.O. Box 607, Pleasanton, California, 94566. The most interesting questions will be answered in this column. Olderman regrets he cannot write personal responses to all the questions.

EBAL baseball kicks off

Grizzlies out to prove ranking

How can a team without so much as a playing field be second-ranked in the East Bay and the favorite to win the East Bay Athletic League baseball title?

As strange a predicament as that may seem, the nomadic California Grizzlies enter the 1977 EBAL baseball season as good a choice as any for the King of the Hill.

For the second year in a row, the Grizzlies will probably be faced with playing all of their games on the road, due to the continued slowdown in the building of their baseball diamond despite the light rain season.

Cal was fairly successful at it last year with a team full of sophomores and juniors, actually holding the top spot for the first two weeks before falling in the second half.

Cal visits Granada in a 3:30 match to start the EBAL season today, while 15th-ranked San Ramon hosts honorable mention Livermore, Dublin travels to Foothill, and 12th-ranked Amador meets Monte Vista in Pleasanton to round out the opening day match-ups.

As in football and baseball, the league is balanced to near perfection. No single team looks like a last place finisher, while four or five teams seem capable of making a go at the top spot.

Cal is a logical choice as the team to beat, with returning pitchers Bret and Chuck Cary, Larry Walters, and slugging catcher Roger Hurlow.

But Amador High has miraculous right-handed hurler Rob Wicks returning for another shot at the EBAL record books, destined to cause havoc for EBAL batters in games to come. AV mentor Don Bush has taken advantage of Wicks' iron arm on many occasions, pitching him on very little rest in important games.

But the Dons need help at the plate to match Wicks' tosses, and the defense is not as sterling as it was a year ago. Still, Amador can come up with a good hitting game on short notice.

The Grizzlies have both pitching and hitting to an abundance, the biggest accomplishment this season being a 14-4 blasting of Washington High. Washington defeated both Amador and Livermore in pre-season contests.

All of which leads Cal coach Bob Benatar to wonder about his team's real abilty, especially after a 6-1 loss to Mt. Diablo just last Friday. "It's too early to tell," he says, "but I think we have a good team. The team is happy with the rating, but I think they're taking the fact that we beat Moreau (CAL favorites) too heavily. It sure didn't help us last Friday."

"We're a lot looser this year," Benatar added of his team's experience. "Last year all we wanted to do is come close, but this year they feel they can win every game they play. Everybody's tough in the league this year, though, you can't cut anybody out. Especially the way we've played: up and down."

The fact that the Grizzlies must practice on blacktop and in gymnasiums with a pitching machine hasn't seem to hampered them yet, although Benatar admits, "It's hard on the infielders when they get into a game, because of their lack of practice on a field."

Pitching seems to be a strong point for many teams throughout the league this season.

Livermore High has returning veterans Jeff Perry and Jeff Benton, the former only a junior with a no - hitter last year already under his belt. Dublin's Bob Richardson, Monte Vista's Brad Miller and Granada's Bob Parness and Steve Cox, along with Mat lefty Mark Davis compose the main weapons for those squads.

San Ramon and Foothill also boast decent pitching staffs, while the Wolves will have the league's leading batter last year in Ric Hanson, who finished at a .418 clip.

The Mat-Brizzly match today will feature the slugging of Vance Rushing, who can hit the ball over the shack at Granada's claustrophobic left-field wall seemingly at will.

Mat hurlers key in 2-1 win

Granada High School displayed its pitching depth and made do with six hits to defeat the visiting Liberty Lions in the final game of the non-league baseball season yesterday afternoon in Livermore.

Four Matador pitchers allowed Liberty just three hits and struck out a total of 11 batters, walking just two. None of the hurlers gave up more than two base runners.

After the Mat first, anything but a snappy pitcher's dual might have been expected.

Jary! Hudson led off with a walk and stole second. One out later, with Hudson at third via a fielder's choice, Vance Rushing singled.

Rushing went for second and Liberty catcher Tom Lawler tried to cut him down and failed, allowing Hudson to steal the plate.

That was it till the top of the seventh when Liberty threatened to send the game into extra innings with its only run.

Tom Bloomfield led off with a walk and went to third on a one-out double to right by right fielder Ricky Chaffer. Bloomfield took off for the plate on a pitch to Lawler and the throw sailed out of the reach of catcher Tim Shatswell.

However, the Mats took it right back and kept it.

Back-to-back singles by Kevin Gosney and Shattswell set up a bunt by Jack Haller. Schwitte tried to throw Gosney out at third, but his toss wide wide and Kevin trotted home with the decider.

Walling's hit leads A's over Giants, 7-5

MESA, Ariz. — First baseman Dennis Walling walloped a two-run triple in the eighth inning to give the Oakland A's a 7-5 win Monday over the San Francisco Giants in exhibition baseball.

Walling knocked in Billy Conigliaro, who had doubled, and Mike Eden, who walked. He later scored on a wild pitch by Randy Moffitt.

Dick Allen made his debut for the A's with three hits, one a double. Allen, who played last season with the Philadelphia Phillies, signed with Oakland as a free agent about two weeks ago.

Pitcher Vida Blue started for the A's and hurled a blistering two-hitter before being relieved after five innings.

Third baseman Bill Madlock led the Giants with two hits, both singles. Derrel Thomas was forced from the game with an injury in the fifth inning, after he was spiked by pinch runner Don Hopkins.

The Giants biggest rally came in the sixth inning, with four unearned runs scored on a string that began with a two-base error by Walling.

Chabot golfers win easily

Chris Cantalini took medalist honors for the Chabot golf team with an even-par 72 to lead the Gladiators to a 43-11 win over Diablo Valley College yesterday.

Playing in the number four spot, Cantalini edged teammate Tom Cole, who carded a 73, in the fight for top honors.

In the remaining matches, the Glads had little trouble, as the first five pairings went to Chabot, DVC gaining only a sixth place win from Bob Bowles.

Chabot's Steve Gazzaneo shot a 75 to beat DVC's Dave Nauman by six strokes. After second-man Cole topped Al Weinhold 75-79, the Glads' Gail Flynn fied a 76 to defeat Paul Leonard's 80 for the losers.

Cantalini won the fourth place match, while Chabot's Dennis Emery scored a 77 to easily beat DVC's Rob Devatero, who finished at 85.

Howard, Sisti hot

Jeff Howard carded a 37 and Dave Sisti fired a 39 to lead Livermore High's golf team to a 198-206 win over Granada yesterday in East Bay Athletic League golf action at Las Positas Golf Course in Livermore.

By taking the top two spots, Livermore dipped under the 200 mark by landing the top three golfers before the Mats could place.

The 'Pokes placed Mark Voelker at 40, tying with Granada's Leo Hoffman. Wes Morgan finished with a 41 for the 'Pokes, while Granada's Mike White and Jeff Stefani also compiled 41's.

Livermore's Nelson Wilhite shot a 41 to pick up an important placing for the Cowboys, edging out the Mats' Kim Curtis and Jeff Hoffman, each of whom clubbed 42's.

Falcons top Gaels

Foothill's duo of Dan Juchau and John Briggs each finished with 41's to pace Foothill High School to a 211-227 win over Dublin yesterday in an East Bay Athletic League Golf match at San Ramon Country Club.

The Falcons placed four golfers in the top five places to key the win, their second of the year.

After Dublin's Finley Boag carded a 42 for the Gaels, John Raspanti and Dave Konecny followed with 42 and 43, respectively, to lead the Falcons.

Dublin's Dan Russell and Foothill's Rick Gielow tied at 44, whle Rusty Allen shot a 45 for Dublin, and the Gaels' duo of Mike Davis and Charlie McIntyre finished at 48.

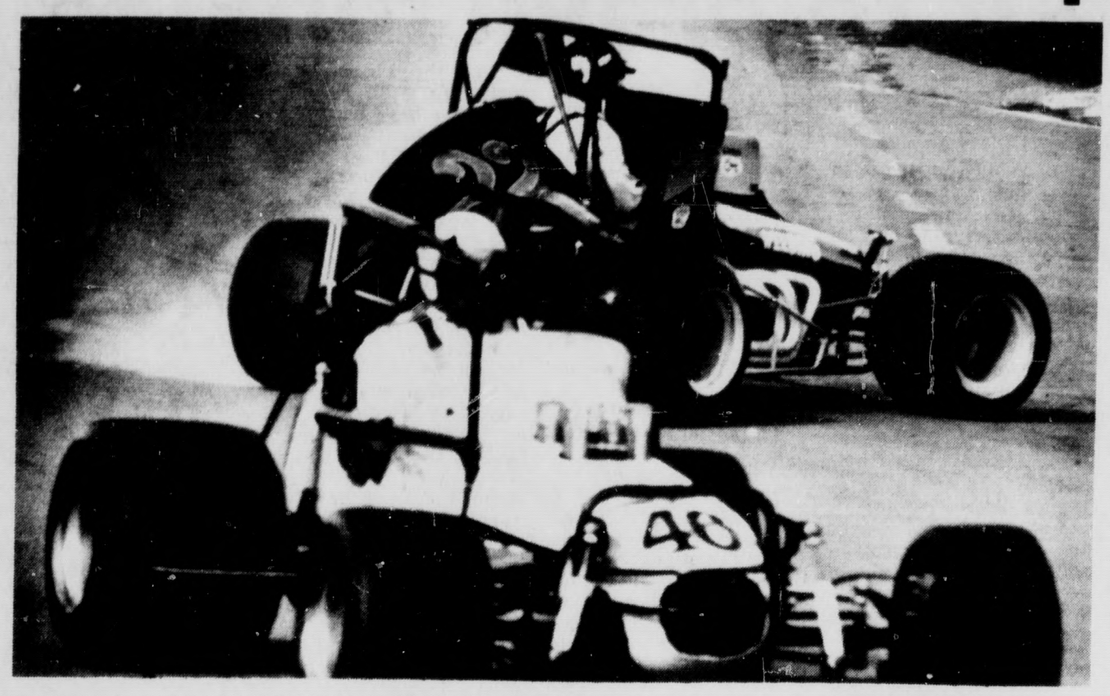
Confident Boldrini swipes SJ event



Mike Johnson (22) spins out to force 6th lap yellow flag as Monty Fowler (46) just misses the mess.

For a guy who had never won a main-event sprint race before Randy Boldrini was extremely confident.

"Once I took the lead I felt I could keep it," Boldrini said after winning the main event in the first sprint competition of the season at Altamont Speedway Sunday afternoon.

"My car was running good," he went on. "I know the other cars would have a hard time passing me, particularly on the outside during turns."

The Orangevale (Sacramento County) resident took the lead after six laps when Wendall Chambers had to leave the race with engine trouble.

Boldrini held the lead in the 25-lap race from then on, beating off strong challenges from Leroy VanConetti and Bill DesChamps.

VanConetti finished second after staying in third or fourth place most of the race. With about eight laps left VanConetti gradually ate up the margin between Boldrini, DesChamps and himself. He caught DesChamps with four laps left and pressed Boldrini until the end, finishing about 12 yards behind the winner.

Seventeen cars entered the main event, with two dropping out.

Don Melvin finished fourth, Dick Rauser fifth, Tom Astane sixth, Rich Walsh seventh and Rich Scettrini eighth.

Astane treated the crowd of 3,500 to a fine race in the Trophy Dash, winning in 56.88.

Heat action saw an excellent 1:57.48 clocking by Jay East in the third section. That time was less than a second off the stadium mark. Other heat winners were Fowler and Paul Sataniti.

Sprint action will continue this Sunday at Altamont. Two more sprint events, April 17 and 24th, will be run off at Altamont this spring. — By Gary Brown

Davidson sets pair of marks in LA

LOS ANGELES — Dana Davidson set two Pacific Association-AAU records and qualified for the women's short course senior nationals in another event at the Southern California Invitational swim meet at East Los Angeles College here over the weekend.

Davidson qualified for the finals of the 200-yard butterfly in 2:06.79 to break the old record for girls 13-14 of 2:07. 64, set in 1975 by Chico's Jill Simmons. She then came back to finish third in the finals in a record-smashing mark of 2:04.68.

Dana qualified fourth for the 100-yard freestyle Sunday night in a time of 53.12, to beat the PA standard of 53.5, established last year by Maureen Gehan of Solano, and finished fourth in the final in a quicker 53.02.

She qualified for the senior nationals, to be contested early next month in Canton, Ohio, with a 12th place finish in the 200-yard individual medley, clocking a 2:11.73.

"The third place in the butterfly proves she should be one of the eight best butterfliers in the country," her coach, Bill Radley of the NorCal Aquatics said yesterday. "She may not win in April, but she sure as hell could in August (when the long course championships are held).

"She's gonna win it sooner or later," he added. "You could tell that by the way she handled herself in the SoCal invitational."

Meanwhile, at the Piedmont Junior/Senior meet, Greg Remmert of the Pleasanton Thunderbirds set a new team record in the boys 13-14 1650-yard freestyle, clocking an 18:10.2.

Tracy Murphy finished third in the girls 13-14 200-yard freestyle in 2:03.8 and sixth in the 200-yard breatstroke in 2:42.2, both AA's.

Deanna Schneider cruised to a 2:44.4 in the 200 breast while Jeff Yssels did the trick in the 100-yard backstroke, turning a 1:04.6.

Mohatt to be Alameda head

Amador Valley High basketball coach Skip Mohatt has been selected to coach the Alameda County High School Basketball All-Stars in their battle with the Contra Costa stars in the United Cerebral Palsy benefit contest to be held in June.

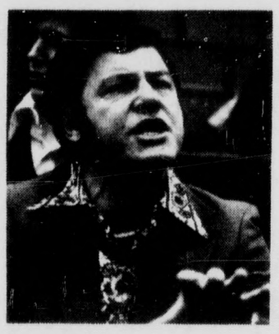
The stars will vie on two separate nights. the first night will be at the Richmond Auditorium on Tuesday, June 28, followed by a Thursday, June 30 appearance at Cal State Hayward.

Gary Cook has been selected as the Contra Costa coach. Cook coached the Campolindo Cougars to the Foothill Athletic League title last year.

The East Bay Prepwriters will select the team, each team being composed of the top twenty players. Those 20 will then try out for a spot in the final ten positions available on the squad.

Mohatt, who coached the Dons to their fourth straight East Bay Athletic League title last year, has a nine-year coaching record of 154-71 and has never had a losing season. The Dons have captured the EBAL title six of the nine years and the team's league record over the period is an admirable 89-19.

"I'd personally like to see this game succeed," Mohatt remarked. "I believe that any player who gets nominated from Alameda County has gotten quite an honor for the simple fact that I believe that the best basketball west of the Mississippi right now is being played in this particular county."



Skip Mohatt

"All the players who will be nominated will have individual talent," Mohatt explained. "We will try to come out with the ten who can appear to adjust in that short period of time to the idea of team play and unselfish play. It's probably more difficult a challenge to try and mold that kind of individual talent into a team in that short perios of time, than when you have all year to work with a variety of talen levels like I do in my regular job."

Mohatt will oppose Cook, whose coaching career has spanned 12 season.

Cook is a native of Nebraska and a graduate of Colorado College in 1958. He has guided his Cougars to the North Coast Section "AA" tournament the past two years, including a first-place finish in 1976.

Hall voted MVP

Don Hall was awarded the Most Valuable Player at the Amador Valley High Basketball Dinner Awards Basketball Banquet last week.

John Sevo was awarded the Most Improved Player Trophy.

The Dons introduced the first annual Jim Waldron Athletic Service Award to highlight the evening. Waldron, a senior at AV, was manager of football and baseball for two years and basketball for three years. The scjool's coaching staff instigated the award this year to honor the person that is selected as having contributed significantly to Amador Athletics.

The Dons also acknowledged the championship seasons of Mike Wolfgram's freshman team and Don Underwood's JV squad, marking the first time in recent memories that Amador has swept all three divisions.

San Jose's Smillie is back home and happy

SAN FRANCISCO — Travel agent John Smillie sees a lot of airplane tickets. Still, soccer player John Smillie can be excused for being a touch excited when he saw the "SJC" tag on his luggage earlier this year.

It meant a return to his adopted home for Smillie, who scored the San Jose Earthquakes first goal in a 3-1 exhibition win over the Washington Diplomats Sunday afternoon at Balboa Soccer Stadium here.

"Yeah, that felt good," Smillie said of the goal while autograghing pennants in the 'Quakes cramped dressing quarters, vacating only an hour before by semi-pro baseball players from an adjacent diamond.

Smillie graduated from San Jose State before the 1976 season and hoped, naturally enough, to be drafted by the home town 'Quakes. But when the call came, it came from the Portland Timbers.

"I just moved up there for the season, though," said Smillie in the English accent that disguises his attachment to the Santa Clara Valley. "I was really disappointed. I've always lived in San Jose and I'm very happy to come back."

The Earthquakes, with midfielder John Rowlands playing his first match of the pre-season, had to be glad to be back in the ranks of the living after three games of hibernation.

	Wash	SJ
Shots attempted	15	32
Corner kicks	4	2
Total saves	13	3
Fouls	6	11
Offsides	2	1
Washington	1 0 —	1
San Jose	1 2 —	3

SJ — Smillie 20 yards, assist from Hernandez (36 minutes elapsed).
Wash — Garber 27 yards, assist from Darrell (44 minutes).
SJ — Mitic 18 yards (79 minutes).
SJ — Mitic penalty shot (83 minutes).
Goalkeeper saves — Undo, W, 13; Hewitt, SJ, 2. Yellow card — Kemp, SJ.

"The fact that we took so many shots was an encouraging thing," said 'Quake coach Gabbo Gavric in response to questions probing his thoughts about the teams arousal. San Jose outshot Washington, 32-15, unofficially.

Most of the Diplomats shots had little effect, however, as San Jose goalkeeper Mike Hewitt had to make only two saves, both in the first half.

Smillie's goal from the top of the area came 36 minutes into the contest and broke a sedentary scoreless tie. Rookie Greg McKeown and 36-year old Ilija Mitic worked a three-on-two up the left side and a flurry of probing kicks opened up a channel for Smillie.

Seconds before the end of the half, Dip defender Gary Darrell dribbled across the 35-yard line and found Randy Garber open at the left edge of San Jose's goal area; Garber thumping a soft liner into the left corner to tie the score.

Just as he set up Garber's score, Darrell set up San Jose's second tally, 34 minutes into the second half. Gary lost his dribble to Mitic 29 yards from the goal and Ilija dribbled past the penalty arc and punched it past resigned Washington goalkeeper Marcello Undo.

Four minutes later, Paul Child picked off an errant Dip pass and faked Undo to the grass with his drible, only to have Don Reiter tackle him from behind just a little too hard for the referees taste.

Mitic whizzed the penalty kick past Undo's left knee and, with eight minutes to go, the 'Quakes had all they needed.

Now, the local angle. Pleasanton's Ballistic United under-12 squad battled the Mill Valley Cosmos in a halftime game that was better - received than the feature by the crowd of less than 2000.

The fans, perhaps upset by the break in the usual routine of four local semi-pro games, gave both pro teams hell for uncalled for tactics and sloppy play. Paradoxically, the gathering was quite attentive to the kids' game and cheered wildly as the Cosmos 'keeper repulsed a furious assualt by United.

CITY COUNCIL OF THE
CITY OF PLEASANTON
ALAMEDA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA
ORDINANCE NO. 814

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 2-5.04 OF ARTICLE 1 (GENERAL) CHAPTER 2 (ZONING), TITLE II (ZONING AND DEVELOPMENT) OF THE ORDINANCE CODE OF THE CITY OF PLEASANTON RELATING TO THE APPLICATION OF THE PLEASANTON ZONING

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PLEASANTON DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Section 2-5.04 (Application), Article 1 (General), Chapter 2 (Zoning), Title II (Zoning and Development) of the Ordinance Code of the City of Pleasanton is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

Secs. 2-5.04 Application. This chapter shall apply to all property owned by private persons, firms, corporations, or organizations except public streets and alleys. It shall also apply to property owned by the City of Pleasanton; by any agencies of the City of Pleasanton; or by any local agency required to comply with this chapter by State law. However, this chapter shall not apply to property owned by the United States of America or any of its agencies; by the State of California or any of its agencies or political subdivisions not required by Government Code Sec. 53090, et seq., to comply with the City's Zoning Chapter; or by any city (other than the City of Pleasanton), county or rapid transit district. All exempted agencies are urged to submit their proposed projects to the permit and review procedures set forth in this chapter and to cooperate in meeting the goals and objectives of this code and the Pleasanton General Plan.

This chapter shall apply to structures and signs extending into or above streets or alleys, to railroad rights-of-way, to electric and communications distribution and service wires where prescribed in the district regulations; provided, however,that the routes or proposed electric or gas transmission lines shall be submitted to the Planning Commission for approval prior to the acquisition of right-of-way thereof. Upon review of the utility company's application and the Planning Director's proposed conditions for route approval, the Planning Commission may set a public hearing for purposes of considering alternate routes, or modifying any conditions vital to the public interest, which in the opinion of the Planning Commission requires a public hearing.

Section 2. This ordinance shall become effective thirty (30) days after its passage and adoption.

Section 3. This ordinance shall be published once within fifteen (15) days after its adoption in "THE TIMES", a newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in the City of Pleasanton.

DECADE.
THE TASTE THAT TOOK TEN YEARS TO MAKE.

Originally, you couldn't get real cigarette taste without what has come to be known as tobacco 'tar.' The problem of reducing this 'tar' to 5 mg. while maintaining taste is enormous.

That's why, when we set out to work, we didn't give ourselves a time limit. It's a good thing. Because it took us ten years to develop a "Total System" capable of delivering truly satisfying taste in a 5 mg. 'tar' cigarette.

What we mean by "Total System."

The tobacco. The filter. And even the paper.

Our objective was to focus on all these parts and arrange them in perfect balance with each other. Only by concentrating on the parts were we able to perfect the whole.

The Tobacco. "Flavor Packing"™ plus fifteen tobaccos boost taste.

We've developed a system called "Flavor Packing" that allows us to concentrate a special patented tobacco flavorant in each Decade cigarette.

This is in addition to our special taste blend of fifteen fine tobaccos, including exotic Turkish, full bodied Burley, and Bright, a tobacco known for its smoothness.

The Filter. Unique "Taste Channel" gives first puff impact.

The Decade filter is a combination of modern laser technology, plus our own exclusive research design. Simply, we've created a channel within the filter to give you that first puff impact you've come to expect from only the higher 'tar' cigarettes. Which means you get taste from first puff to last.

The Paper. High porosity paper controls burn rate.

For Decade we use only high porosity cigarette paper. Ordinary paper inhibits the burn rate, which can diminish the taste and create the need to pull harder when you drag.

With Decade's high porosity paper however, you get an efficient burn rate that delivers optimum taste with a minimum of 'tar.'

The result. A completely new kind of low 'tar' cigarette.

So try a pack of Decade for yourself. Regular or Menthol. And after one taste we think you'll agree that our last 10 years were well worth the effort.

Only 5 mg. 'tar.'

Regular and Menthol.
